CATALOGUE OF COMPOSITIONS

Mario Toppi was discovered by Maurice Sterne, the artist, while painting in the village of Anticoli in Italy. The young peasant was untutored and untaught, no theory or program having affected his development. His work is light in execution—perfect and complete in its unity.

The entire collection of works here shown was sold during the exhibition which closed in New York last week and the Museum extends its thanks to the owners for allowing the pictures to come to Worcester.
